“Coming Clean”

FROM THE EDITOR

A Cleaner, Greener Future

It seems every new step we take and every new corner we turn into, the environment is now becoming a major consideration in the decisions we make in our lives. Such decisions include the car we drive, the electricity we use, the house we live in and the household products that we choose to buy. There is also a growing trend for advertising companies to introduce “Carbon Off-set” in their marketing literature, such as airline tickets right through to insurance company premiums. Although carbon offset is not a compulsory payment as yet, I have no doubt it will be in the future!

The world as we know is turning green, and fast! It’s interesting to note that fortunes were made at the beginning of the industrial revolution because of the individuals who saw change and embraced it. Unfortunately, the others sat back and watched, then wondered why those people succeeded and they did not.

“Juvenile implements Environment Management Systems for a sustainable future”

As a responsible business owner, I have moved on the opportunity and made a substantial investment for a cleaner greener future. This investment has come through the implementation of an “Environment Management System” to AS/NZ ISO 14001, which looks at all the aspects and impacts the business makes on the environment allowing my company, Juvenile, to make the necessary changes and move forward to a sustainable future.

I believe that a greener cleaner future is not just in the hands of the government, but also in the hands of the individuals!

Big & Green

The Genesis has arrived

With so many environmental pressures on the cleaning industry today and the need for new technology, Juvenile has recently introduced into its fleet, “The Genesis” - one of the world’s largest hard floor surface cleaning & water extraction machines available today.

Not only does the “Genesis” have the capacity to clean large hard floor surfaces quickly and with fantastic results, best of all it’s “green”.

At 3000psi pressure, the “Genesis” Truck Mount can heat the water to almost boiling temperature which means a lot less chemical is needed for a cleaner and greener result. The secret is the heat and pressure that breaks down the surface tension allowing the pressure to lift the contaminants, easily removing the debris like a hot knife cutting through butter.

Not only does the “Genesis” have superior cleaning abilities, all the water used during the cleaning process is drawn back into the truck’s large holding tank, which can then be removed from site for proper disposal or discharged on-site to a more suitable environment or location.

The lack of water on-site poses no problem as the “Genesis” also comes with its own built-in fresh water tank ensuring the work continues. When it comes to the flooding of large commercial buildings, the “Genesis” wins hands down every time!

No other machine in the world market can extract as much water and in as little time as the “Genesis”. Why? Because the “Genesis” is the only genuine truck mounted machine that allows multiple operators to work at the same time, therefore saving “time and money”.
